

The Eldredge Two Spool Rotary Sewing Machine

THE GOAL OF HALF A CENTURY
IS ACHIEVED

For fifty years and more, the Two Spool Sewing Machine has been the dream and goal of inventors, and large sums of money have been spent in unsuccessful efforts to produce it.

After years of patient, unflagging work, the manufacturers have overcome seemingly unsurmountable obstacles and have finally produced the Eldredge Two Spool—a thoroughly practical and entirely satisfactory sewing machine, that sews direct from two spools of thread.

The Eldredge Two Spool Sewing Machine eliminates bobbins and saves the time consumed in winding and in removing and replacing them. In particular, this feature will be appreciated by dressmakers and busy housewives, to whom the time saving effected is of vital consideration.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. C. E. Tracy entertained a party of young people at her home on a row hill in honor of the birthday anniversary of Miss E. N. Vercoe. Cards and other amusements combined to make up a very pleasant evening. Miss Vercoe was presented cut glass and other presents as a remembrance of the evening. After refreshments of ice cream, cake and wafers, the party broke up, wishing Miss Vercoe many happy returns of the day.

A party of eight men, John Garrity, L. M. Mahoney, M. M. Mahoney, Patrick Denning, M. J. Geale, I. L. Brennan, M. S. Brennan and Thomas Neelan of Worcester, Mass., passed through the city this morning en route, by automobile, to their home, after spending two weeks at Highgate Springs on a fishing expedition. The party reported an excellent time but, unlike most fishermen, did not have any large fish stories to narrate.

Marriage of Former Barre People.

Barre friends of the principals who figured in the ceremony described in the following will read the despatch from the Jackson (Mich.) Press with interest, inasmuch as bride and groom formerly lived in this city:

"One of the most attractive of the midsummer weddings was solemnized Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hurry, 117 East Ganson street, when Miss Margaret Melvin of Barre, Vt., and Mr. William Masson of this city were united in marriage by Rev. Bastian Smith of the First Congregational church.

"Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Hurry sang, 'O Promise Me,' and as the wedding march was played by Miss Mary Higgins, the bride party took their places beneath an arch in the living room. Miss Eva Schneider was the maid of honor, and Albert Hurry served as groomsmen. The bride was dressed in a dainty embroidered silk net made over white silk and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Miss Schneider wore white voile and carried pink roses.

"After the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served, covers being laid for 25 guests. Centering the table was a crystal vase holding exquisite pink roses and suspended over the table a wedding cake was a white wedding bell. Mrs. A. Robertson and daughter, Margaret, and son, Arthur, of Barre, Vt., were the only guests from away.

"Mr. and Mrs. Masson will spend several weeks at Clark's lake, after which they will be at home on East avenue."

Until a short time ago, the groom made his home on upper Washington street and the bride was employed in this city until early in the summer.

Most of the cars are planning to leave here about 9 or 10 o'clock.

BIG COURT BUSINESS

During the Last Quarter, State Cases Predominating.

Barre city court did a record-breaking business in the quarterly period ending July 31, according to returns made to the state auditor yesterday by Judge H. W. Scott. Not in nearly 10 years has the aggregate of cases in a like period approached the high water mark established in May, June and July. State cases entered number 156. There were two cases considered wherein violations of the city ordinances were involved and 39 civil cases were recorded. Two court trials on civil cases and one jury trial and a court trial in state cases were heard during the three months. Two offenders charged with violating a city ordinance were arraigned for Sunday horse racing. Seldom in recent years has the ordinance been invoked.

While records were made in the number of cases and in the sum total of fees to be returned to the magistrate for disbursement among officers, the aggregate of fines and costs, $14,623.35, turned in to the state, is not as large as in a few former periods when heavy fines for violations of the liquor law bulked large in a comparatively small aggregate of cases. The sum of $17.00 was forwarded to the city treasurer as the result of the ordinance prosecutions. Returned fees to be distributed among the officers wherever due, will total $869.61.

Back in 1907, the city court records show, there was a total of 125 cases entered by the state in the period ending July 31. Since then the quarterly aggregates have usually ranged under 100, with state entries reaching their maximum in the summer quarter, so called. Arrests in the quarter just ended were divided as follows: May, 70; June, 39; July, 47. Ordinance violations were entered in May, making 72 the total for that month.

MONTPELIER

Walton's Vermont Register of 1829 Interests "Next Gen's" in Barber Shop.

A well-preserved copy of Walton's Vermont Register and Farmers' Almanac published in 1829 by E. P. Walton at the Montpelier Book Store is being perused with interest by those "waiting" in the Smith barber shop, the little booklet having been discovered by E. A. Smith a few days ago in an old trunk.

The book is similar to the one published in later years, has the state constitution, the state officers, and the list of officers, attorneys and physicians in every town. In Montpelier that year Stephen Foster was delegate to the general assembly and Joseph Wing was town clerk. The selectmen were Josiah Wing, Joel Bassett and Joseph Howes. The postmaster was J. V. Vail and the names of six attorneys and physicians are given.

In Barre, the delegate was Peter Nichols, who also served as constable, and the town clerk was Joseph Ripley. The board of selectmen was made up of Charles Keith, John Thwing and Smith Sheridan, and the postmaster was Walter Chaffey.

The salaries of some of the state officials, as given in another part of the register, are as follows: Governor, $750 per year; supreme court justices, $1,050; secretary of state, $450; state treasurer, $400; secretary of governor and council, $250; clerk of the general assembly, $375; lieutenant-governor, $4,000 per day when attending sessions of the council and assembly. The delegates to the assembly were paid $1.50 per diem and were allowed six cents per mile. A sheriff or constable serving a process was given the sum of six cents each time he read the document.

Postal rates were given in the back of the book, it costing six cents to send a letter 30 miles or less, 10c up to 80 miles, and 25c for 400 miles. A newspaper sent through the mail cost a cent to the publisher.

Less than two per cent. of the amount due the city from tax assessments remains uncollected and has been placed in the hands of Assistant Clerk L. C. Pollard, the sum of $173,589.88 having been taken in at the city hall office during the month of July. The treasurer considers the collection an excellent one, there having been paid the last day $74,913.54.

The total amount due was $177,126.53 and of this amount the collector has $3,536.65 on his books.

Mrs. Frank Hardigan of upper Main street left this forenoon for Hanover, N. H., for an extended visit with relatives.

Thomas Murray of Reading, Mass., arrived in the city this morning and will play with Montpelier this afternoon against Rutland at Inter-city.

In probate court, Mrs. Susan A. Thomas of Marshfield settled the account of Edwin A. Thomas as executor of the will of Lydia G. and John H. Tibbitts.

William Sweeney of Derby Line is in the city, having been called by the death of his sister, Miss Nellie Sweeney.

D. T. Wilton of East State street has received a half-dozen snapshots from members of Company H at Eagle Pass, Tex., and has posted them in the show window. One photograph shows Capt. Howe of Company F astride a burro, another a shack in which soft drinks are sold, and all give an excellent idea of the kind of country it is. In one of the pictures, Cook Chaffee of Company F, who died of burns several days ago, is shown laughing at a happy incident of camp life.

H. E. Counter, who is employed in Windsor, arrived in the city yesterday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Counter, whose farm buildings were destroyed by fire several days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pierce and little daughter left yesterday afternoon for Cobalt, Can., where they will spend ten days with Mrs. Pierce's parents.

Charles E. Theriault returned last evening from Northfield, where he attended a state court meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

County Clerk L. C. Moody has received an order from Judge Fred M. Butler dissolving the injunction issued by the Blanchard Real Estate company against the city and dismissing the bill. Notice of appeal was filed by counsel for the Blanchard company, and the case will be taken to the supreme court. The order sustains the report made by Master J. Ward Carver several weeks ago. The case resulted from the city objecting to the unloading of coal from the sidewalk to the cellar of the Blanchard block on Main street. The real estate company insisted that it owned the land and secured an injunction restraining the city authorities from interfering with the unloading of the fuel.
